THE "TREATY PORTS OF CHIN & JAPAN," AND "NUTES ANI QUERIES ON CHINA AND JAPAN." EXTRACTS FROM REVIEWS.

(From the "Friend of India," June 4, 1868. We acknowledge with thanks the receip of the numbers for the current year of "Notes and Queries," a most deserving Anglo-Chinese monthly, edited by Mr N. B. Dennys, whose "Treaty Ports of China and Japan" are so well known. From the a large boat which they said was a pirate, names attached to the "Notes" we can see that the contributors include some of the best Chinese scholars in the East. Its interest is not confined to China, and it will be of valuable assistance to all scholars, wh have directed their attention towards the subject of Buddhism and its literature, and generally to all who are interested in ori ental autiquities. It deserves to be better known in India.

(From the "London Examiner," May This really useful volume ["Treaty Ports | sighted a couple of junks drawn up on China and Japan"] is intended as a guide for travellers and residents in China and Japan, and as a book of reference for probable character when fire was opened mercantile men generally. It contains an account, historical and political, of all the open ports of these countries, together with Peking, Yedo, Liongkong, and Macao. has been carefully compiled and edited b Mr N. B. Dennys; and the elaborate maps and plans, with which the work abounds considerably enhance its value. * * * We have thus given in outline some of the more prominent portions of the chapter devoted to Cauton, as a specimen of the whole volume. Other chapters treating of Macao, Formosa, Ningpo, Shanghae, and the remaind r of the treaty ports, we can only enumerate. The pages describing Peking, the capital, are so interesting, and contain so much that is new to European readers respecting its history, public buildings, and general characteristics, that we would fain transfer them to our columns. A complete and intelligible plan of the Imperial City and neighbourhood, gives us an accurate notion of the relative position of its divisions, streets, and places. In the introductory chapter to the notices of the Treaty orts of Japan will be found as uccinct history of that Empire, together with remarks on its government, geography and limits, which will be found particularly interesting as throwing a considerable light on a part of the world so long entirely, and I still comparatively, unknown to Europeans.

The descriptions of Nagasaki, Yedo, Yokohama, and the other Treaty Ports of Japan, are as elaborate and entertaining those of the Chinese ports. A copious index and a useful appendix containing many hints and much appropriate advice to travellers and others, is also included in the volume. The entire work affords a vast amount of information, pleasantly written, and we doubt not will be perused with interest by many who will never visit the

A LITTLE EXCURSION.

A DELIGHTFUL illustration of the safe character of the neighbourhood of Hougkong was afforded by the adventures of serted, and in a short time were under the shadow of Castle Peak. Here they the beach and were conversing as to their on them by a party of Chinese concealed behind rocks and bushes at about 300 vards distance. It was promptly returned by the foreigners, but, owing to the cover afforded by the ground to the pirates, with little result, especially as they had but two guns which carried the distance. About five minutes after the firing commenced Mr J. de Souza, who was one of the party, was struck in the neck by a musket ball. Happily the wound, though painful, was not dangerous, the bullet inflicting a flesh wound only and just missing that unpleasant part of the neck to which those who wish to cut their throats devote their efforts.

Finding that they could do nothing to the Chinese, whose position was too good to be stormed, the party very rightly withdrew out of range and returned to

Of course this little brush is of no great importance in itself beyond illustrating the character of the coast inhabitants. Within a few hours, a party of peaceable excursionists see a pirate junk at one place, and are fired upon at another, and this latter without giving any possible provocation. The locality is beyond Colonial jurisdiction and very possibly the only satisfaction any complaint would meet with would be some remark to the effect that "it served them right for venturing into dangerous localities." But while we have no direct power to do anything, a little event of this sort forms a good plea for urging additional exertions upon the part of the Viceroy towards suppressing piracy in the Sa-non District. It is rather too bac that one cannot venture six miles beyond the limits of Hongkong over ground daily traversed by the River Steamers without being subjected to attack. Had the party been less numerous, it is pretty certain that the pirates would have pursued them. We trust that the Naval Authorities here will do something to teach the natives of the river coast that firing on foreigners without provocation is certain to have unpleasant results

We are no advocates for a blind and inhuman system of "revenging" upon harmless people the troubles into which adventurous foreigners may fall when they venture into dangerous neighbourhoods. But the dwellers on the coast nese themselves, and the seizure and destruction of a junk, with a very positive assurance that a village would be destroyed on the next occasion, would effect a great deal towards tenching these SATURDAY'S Gazette contains an order stamps on cheques were to be "impressed festly untrue. or embossed." The order does not destroy the validity of an embossed cheque, so that those persons who have a quantity of that article will not be mulcted in a penalty of forfeiture. The alteration that has been made is a sensible one. If you now get a plain cheque from a client up north cheque dated Hongkong, you may get it cashed by fixing the adhesive stamp but under the former regulation the cheque, being unembossed, was liable to duty as a bill of exchange. Of course the learned Acting Attorney General of Hongkong, whose knowledge of the law relating to cheques, whether drawn to "order" or to "bearer," is very profound. In fact, it is fully equal to his discretion in the exercise of his legal cannot give that illustrious personage any credit. The stamp on bills of exchange not exceeding $100, drawn out of the Colony is to be 30 cents, in lieu of 25 cents, as previously ordered. What is there in the nature of such small bills of exchange that they should bear an additional of 20 per cent? We cannot pretend to solve this recondite mystery; but we may caution our readers to take care how they use their "adhesive" stamps. three cent adhesive stamp is sufficient for a receipt; a cheque needs only two cents. There is an easy preventive against mistake in this matter. SUMMARY JURISDICTION COURT Before the Hon. H. J. BALL.

Nov. 24, 1868. Very few cases were possessed of any public importance out of the six and twenty himself (Moss). The name of Mr Landstein on the roll.

A. d'Azevedo v. Chew Men Hing, $265. -This was a claim arising out of the absconding of a servant with monies, for whom defendant stood as security. Hazeland appeared for defendant. tiff admitted that there had only been a verbal agreement, and said that no written memorandum or agreement existed on the subject. His Honor remarked that the English law did not permit the recovery of any debt from a second party unless upon some agreement in writing; he was very sorry, but plaintiff must be nonsuited. He would not give costs of attorney. Mr Hazeland objected, and said that plaintiff, having brought an action and having failed to prove any case whatever, he was entitled to costs. After some discussion, costs of attorney were allowed.

The amount ($61.40) was paid into Court,

One of the three Sikhs had paid his share of the $25; but the two present defendants stood out, and hence the suits. Defendants said that they did not admit having joined in asking for the ser vices of Mr Sharp. His Honor gave judgment for the plaintiff, who had advanced the publicare indebted for this privilege to the money for the policemen, saying that people should not seek lawyers' assistance if they did not wish to pay for it.

C. Rivington v. M. Moss. $233.24 This case, it may be remembered, was previously before the Court in the form of suit, at the instance of Mr Moss, for a functions generally. Mr Sharp (who appeared for defendant) asked for a postponement of the case on the ground that it was one eminently suited for settlement out of Court. But the plaintiff refused to agree to an adjournment; he was, and always had been, perfectly willing to agree to the award, but defendant had refused to accept it. Mr Sharp then sought to upset the plaintiff's case by putting it as a mere matter of a partnership account: but His Honor refused to look upon it in that light, on the ground that the Small Court was one of equity, From what was read of the award (which referred to the parties to the suit in asonic language), and what was said in the conversational discussion which ensued, it appeared that the goods in dispute were ordered to be sold, and whatever loss or profit resulting was to be fairly divided between each party. It further appeared that Mr Rivington had senta portion of the goods up to Shanghai for sale there; and Mr Moss, while complaining bitterly of the manner in which he had been hoats under 12 tons will be allowed 20 se- | kept in the dark and never once been consult conds per ton (for each ton under 12) in ed in the matter, objected now to pay his share because he knew nothing of the goods rig to have the choice of Prizes, and the having been sent to the Shanghai market. first boat of the other rig to take the re- He admitted that the loss was not now so maining prize. It will hardly be credited by our readers. but it is nevertheless a fact, that there are many Ship-masters, more especially those in the Coasting Trade, who know so little of the principle of signalling, that they are under the impression that in making a signal it is of no consequence what flags are at the top, middle, or bottom of the hoist, so that all the flags of the hoist are shown. FIGHTING FITZGERALD. The following queer exhibition of un blushing impudence is given by Walter Thornbury, in his "History of London Clubs," of that blustering and ferocious rascal, Fighting Fitzgerald, (who was once introduced to Louis XVI. as an Irishman of good descent, who had fought no less than eighteen duels and had always killed his man,) when he forced his way into Brookes' Club, and actually succeeded intimidating the entire body of members :-The impudent scoundrel, who, it was af-

GETTING A PRACTICE. - Our attention has been called to the fact that in the port of San Francisco it has become a practice for passengers from the Australian colonies to avail themselves of the help of a number of needy and unscrupulous lawyers to recover; most of their passage-money, in the shape of damages for the (alleged) defective supply of provisions during the voyage. We observe from the Alta California of July 24. that a decision has been given in the case of the barque Day Dawn, from Sydney, which will possibly help to put an end to the system, as it is the first which has been given in favour of the vessel. Captain Jones, master and part owner of the Day Dawn, sailed from Sydney for San Francisco in pril last, with 100 passengers. The ship was provisioned for ninety days, but the run was made in sixty-two. The provisions were all of good quality, excepting the pork, which was second class, but preserved meats were substituted for it. and it was used by the officers of the ship and those of the passengers who were in the cabin. As soon as the ship arrived the passengers were visited by some of the lawyers referred to, and suits were instituted for damages—the common practice being to defer proceedings until within few days of the time of the sailing of the ship, when it is usual to give bonds for the ve se! and leave the case in the bands of the agents. Then, the witnesses for the defence being at sea, or got out of the way, the ship has always hitherto lost the case. The Day Dawn, however, had not been chartered to return. Captain Jones, therefore, resolved to fight the matter out. He declined a freight, and as soon as a sheriff's officer went on board, ballasted his yessel, took her out into the stream, and waited the process of the law. When the cases were heard, thirteen witnesses deposed that the beef, pork, flour, and coffee served out to them during nearly the whole voyage were of the worst quality, and wholly unfil for food. In defence, the master, the first and third mates, the surgeon, a cabin passenger, and three steerage passengers were evidence as to the good quality of the articles supplied, and specimens of the bread and coffee were produced in Court. It was also proved that the beef first sent off to the ship at Sydney was rejected by the master, and a second supply procured with great trouble. The meat was also examined in San Francisco, and pronounced good by inspectors. The case was dismissed, and as the prosecuting "lawyers" were likely to lose their costs, it is to be hoped that Captain Jones's spirited conduct will be productive of good. -Melbourne Argus. to be the most efficacious remedy per copy viz :-known to the world. No preparation is so suitable to the climates of India and China as this fine and invigorating medicine. is particularly adapted to the constitution of European ladies, as it is never failing in its effects in all diseases peculiar to females. while those who are attenuated by the debilitating effects of the above climates will find in this wonderful remedy a kind of talisman whereby they may insure a restoration to robust health.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT. The science of Medicine has never before produced any remedy that can be compared to this wonderful Dintment, as it cures after all other means have failed, all wounds, sores, ulcers, and also the most inveterate skin diseases peculiar to the climates of India and China.
